Call for Submission: Depictions of Catherine

Your submission constitutes agreement to the submission rules.

Call for Submission: As we celebrate two centuries of Mercy, we are called to envision what the future of Mercy will bring for each of us. This year's Mercy Day theme, Catherine McAuley Boundary Breaker, reminds us of the courage and compassion of the woman who founded the House of Mercy on Baggot Street. Images of Catherine have provided so many in the Mercy World comfort and companionship as they journey in Mercy. This year, we seek to know how each of you envisions Catherine. In sharing our images with each other we draw closer to our foundress and closer in connection with our mission to bring Mercy and Justice to our world.

Image submissions should depict Catherine McAuley, foundress of the Sisters of Mercy, in a way that is most meaningful to the artist. You may consider:

- Catherine as a Sister of Mercy
- Catherine as a lay woman
- Catherine as a mother
- Catherine as an educator, nurse, social worker
- Catherine as an Irish woman known for her blonde hair and blue eyes
- Catherine as a global woman known for her foundations around the world
