

Walking with Catherine

The University of Detroit Mercy in Dublin

Susan Cahill, Programme Coordinator with Mercy International Association, with 15 students from the McAuley School of Nursing, Detroit USA.

The students, led by Susan, did a 3-hour walking tour of Catherine's Dublin – visiting several sights and landmarks in Catherine's life.

Highlights from the tour include an atmospheric walk through Dublin's Liberties, a visit to Fishamble Street and Copper Alley, a stop at St James Graveyard, St Teresa's Church on Clarendon Street and a vibrant walk through Queens Street and Dublin's old fruit market ending with a visit to Presentation Convent Chapel, George's Hill, Dublin 7 where on the 12th of December 1831 Catherine McAuley, Mary Ann Doyle, and Mary Elizabeth Harley professed their religious vows as the first Sisters of Mercy.

Detroit Nurses at Presentation Chapel George's Hill.

Clarendon Street Church where 13 Sisters of Mercy are buried