‘What a paradox life is! They (our migrant brothers and sisters) left, fleeing hunger and misery, and now a virus, miniscule in size, has the capacity to paralyze the entire world; questioning all of the comforts of a minority of the world’s population that has believed it had the power to possess life.’

-Carmen Rosa Callomamani rsm

‘Stand at the crossroads, and look, and ask for the ancient paths, where the good way lies; and walk in it.’

(Jer 6:16)

‘In the midst of this dramatic situation of COVID-19, which has “displaced” so much in our lives and in our world, we may have difficulty seeing, feeling and hearing the effects of this resurrection. This context reminds us of something we already know and which we too often forget: that it is the crucified one who is the risen one. The word of God comes to aid our fragile memory.’

-Sheila Curran rsm

‘This story [of the Canaanite woman – Matt 15:21-28] sets forth who Jesus is as the Christ, the anointed one who reveals in painful human interactions what God is like. And that awareness and transformation in the very human Jesus came as a result of the actions of one of the poorest of the poor, the outcast, the “other”. Through this profound encounter, both Jesus and she were liberated.’

-Margaret Hinchey rsm

‘Among the many displaced persons within and outside our countries are refugees, asylum seekers, internally displaced persons, homeless or precariously housed persons, those with cognitive impairments, those who are trafficked, persons subjected to domestic violence, and elders in long term care facilities.’

-Elizabeth Davis rsm

‘Maku e ki atu, he aha te mea nui o te ao? He Tangata, he Tangata, he Tangata. You ask, what is the most important thing in the world? It is People, it is People, it is people.’ (Maori Proverb)

-Malia Fetuli rsm

‘In the midst of this dramatic situation of COVID-19, which has “displaced” so much in our lives and in our world, we may have difficulty seeing, feeling and hearing the effects of this resurrection. This context reminds us of something we already know and which we too often forget: that it is the crucified one who is the risen one. The word of God comes to aid our fragile memory.’

-Sheila Curran rsm

‘This story [of the Canaanite woman – Matt 15:21-28] sets forth who Jesus is as the Christ, the anointed one who reveals in painful human interactions what God is like. And that awareness and transformation in the very human Jesus came as a result of the actions of one of the poorest of the poor, the outcast, the “other”. Through this profound encounter, both Jesus and she were liberated.’

-Margaret Hinchey rsm

‘Among the many displaced persons within and outside our countries are refugees, asylum seekers, internally displaced persons, homeless or precariously housed persons, those with cognitive impairments, those who are trafficked, persons subjected to domestic violence, and elders in long term care facilities.’

-Elizabeth Davis rsm